3 Structure, Governance and Management - continued

Public Benefit Statement

The Society's trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have regard to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit, "Charities and Public Benefit'. The charitable purposes of the Society are set out in its constitution and the objects include 'to advance and promote the care and safety of critically ill patients'. This is achieved by training, education and raising awareness of patient safety for the benefit of healthcare professionals and members of the public, together with publication of studies and research into critical care. The trustees ensure that the objects are achieved through an extensive programme of education and training events, the development of standards, publications, promoting and funding research and patient liaison. The Society's educational events and research awards are openly advertised and it offers resources for healthcare professionals and members of the public through its website.

Appointment of Directors and Trustees

The directors and trustees are appointed for an initial three year period, and comprise those elected by members of the Intensive Care Society to serve on its Council. They may be re-elected for one further period and serve as an Officer in accordance with the Articles of Association.

Trustee Induction and Training

Newly elected members are advised on their responsibilities as directors and trustees and are progressively involved in areas of management of the Society.

Organisation and Management

The directors and co-opted members form a Council for the management of the Society. The Officers, principally the President, Honorary Secretary and Honorary Treasurer, form an Executive to work with Secretariat staff to manage the operations of the Society.

Council meets regularly to direct the affairs of the Society and co-opts members as required to participate in its deliberations. The Presidents of the Societish and Welsh Intensive Care Societies continued to attend Council meetings as co-opted members. Development and management of specific activities is delegated to sub-committees who report their proceedings to Council.

The full-time staff of the Society work closely with appointed Officers and Council members to ensure the effective management of the organisation through its committee structure. Professional advisers are used to provide specialist advice in areas of investment, finance, law and property.

Risk Management

A formal comprehensive statement of all significant risks to which the Society is exposed and its financial controls has been reviewed and updated. Policies and procedures exist to manage material risks and maintain internal controls. The directors have established systems of internal control, comprising financial accounts and annual budgets, delegated authorities for operational management and segregation of duties, reviews of financial and investment performance and the identification and management of risks. They have also established budgetary procedures and controls to manage the commercial risks inherent in organising large scientific meetings. The Society is undertaking a major database and website redevelopment, overseen by a Steering Group, and has assessed the project risks.

A Finance Committee considers financial management and the development of policy in addition to monitoring the financial position of the Society. The internal controls are subject to ongoing assessment and evaluation by the directors. The Honorary Treasurer reports on financial matters to each Council meeting of the Society. These meetings record the formal review and approval of all aspects of finance, internal controls and accounts.

4 Objectives and Activities

The principal activities of the Society are related to the advancement of public education in those branches of medical science concerned with critical care, the promotion of study and research into critical care, and the publication of the useful results of such study and research. These activities are directed towards the main objective of the improvement of patient care and safety and developing standards of care for intensive care units.

The Society maintains constructive dialogue with the bodies involved in training, career development and service provision in critical care. These included the Faculty of Intensive Care Medicine, the Royal Colleges of Anaesthetists, Physicians and Surgeons, the British Medical Association and multidisciplinary organisations such as the British Association of Critical Care Nurses and Critical Care Pharmacists. Through these, the Society has maintained its influence on multidisciplinary training in critical care and the development of an academic career structure in critical care medicine.

Education and Research

The Society offers an extensive programme of educational meetings, publications and participation in the development of all aspects of critical care education and training. In addition, the Society is leading critical care research in the UK through programmes funded by its direct grants, collaborations and external funding sources. These activities will continue to deliver the main strategic aims of the Society in fulfilling its charitable objects and delivering public benefit.

The Intensive Care Foundation was established in 2003 with the aim of facilitating and supporting critical care research through the members of the Intensive Care Society. The Foundation is part of the Society and a Foundation Board is responsible to Council for all research related activity. Research grants are advertised to attract high quality applications from those involved in intensive care. The progress and outcome of research projects is reviewed by the Committee and reported to Council. The Foundation aims to allow as many members of the clinical trials network as possible to be chief investigators in the different trials and provides funding to pump prime trials, which have subsequently been successful in attracting major funding. The Foundation's portfolio of projects has led to a number of publications and contributions to scientific meetings.

The Industry Partnership Scheme has fostered collaboration between the Society's members and the pharmaceutical and technical companies involved in the development and marketing of medicines and equipment for use in the critical care environment. At the end of the year, membership stood at 36 companies and the Society greatly values their participation and support which contributes to research and education.

5 Achievements and Performance

The Society is based at Churchill House with the Royal College of Anaesthetists, where seminars take place in the excellent educational facilities offered by the building. The Society continues to be the most influential body representing medical and other professions involved in critical care. The breadth of the Society has been strengthened by Council representation from nursing and allied health professional (AHP) members, and the nursing/AHP committee continued to promote multi-profession interactions.

During the year, a strategy review was undertaken and a number of future developments identified in the areas of membership, communications and infrastructure. Members approved constitutional changes that will strengthen the Society's position as the multi-professional body in the UK representing intensive care. A project is underway to renew the membership database to provide efficient management of member records and communications.

The Society continued to support its members in a number of ways, including advantageous subscription rates for nurses/AHP members and trainee doctors, the promotion of excellence for consultants through the Advisory Committee for Clinical Excellence Awards, and the provision of personal accident insurance. Alongside a range of benefits offered as part of the membership of the Society, the interests of members continue to be promoted widely with Royal Colleges, the NHS and other government departments.

5 Achievements and Performance - continued

Involvement with the Department of Health continues informally, with the Society frequently asked for input, for example, into the recruitment process for the new chair of the Clinical Commissioning Group. Mr Barry Williams, Chair of the Patient & Relatives committee, brings an important patient perspective to all of the Society's initiatives. There has also been consistent engagement with the Organ Donation Task Force and representation on a number of other important forums.

The Society's website contains information for members and the public and enables members to book onto educational meetings. The Society has approved a project to improve its design and functionality.

Education

Through the Standards, Safety and Quality Committee, the documents that define the standards of the delivery of critical care medicine in the UK are updated and new standards and guidelines are produced. This is an important aspect of the work of the Society in ensuring that the patients receive safe, high quality care. A number of new standards are in preparation.

The Society hosted its annual scientific meeting, which attracted a record number of delegates, with presentations from international speakers. The educational programme continued to benefit from support and participation from its industry partners. The Society's programme of one day seminars and training workshops continues to develop.

The Society plays a major role in education and training through its own Education committee and through membership of the critical care committees of the Royal Colleges of Anaesthetists and Physicians, representation on the Faculty of Intensive Care Medicine and collaboration with other organisations such as nursing and allied health professional organisations. The Society has endorsed the publication of high quality educational material by these organisations.

The Journal of the Intensive Care Society, first published in September 2000, continues to provide important articles on aspects of critical care medicine. The inclusion of regular critically-appraised reviews of topical publications and increased interest of members in submission of original research publications has raised its scientific profile. An editorial board supports the work of the co-editors. The Journal is available both as a paper subscription copy and via the website, with the provision of search facilities. It is progressing an application for a prestigious Medline listing and is recognised by search engines such as Google Scholar and Embase.

Research

The Society continues as a significant sponsor of intensive care research in the UK through the Intensive Care Foundation, chaired by Dr Stephen Brett. The Foundation 'pump primes' and develops research projects through a peer review process, which then attract sponsorship from some of the major grant awarding bodies in the UK. In this way, the Foundation has helped to attract £10 million of funding for vital research into critical illness. The work of the Foundation is under its Co-Directors, Professors Danny McAuley and Gavin Perkins, who oversee a number of projects and continue to develop links with national funding bodies. The Foundation gratefully acknowledges support from a number of sources, including B Braun Medical who have funded the B Braun Intensive Care Foundation Award for an MSc into Clinical Trials and are funding the posts of Deputy Directors of Research.

The Research Committee, which is co-ordinated by the Intensive Care Foundation Board, has been able to make three grant awards of amounts up to £15,000 each to support clinical research as part of a New Investigators' programme. The Foundation was able to maintain a significant level of research expenditure, facilitated through the support of members and the continued success of the Industry Partnership Scheme.

Communication and related activities

The e-Newsletter has become established as a communication channel between Council and the membership. Communication between the Society and its members has been enhanced through continued use of electronic communication. There is an active Linkman system with representation from both consultants and trainees, which facilitates communication in individual hospitals and networks.

The Society represented the profession on an increasing number of government and related bodies. Contributions have been made to national issues of governance and professional regulation through the General Medical Council. It continues to work closely with the Department of Health, with significant participation in projects for major disaster preparedness and pandemic influenza planning. The Society has continued its assistance to providers of health care outside the NHS regarding standards for the provision of high dependency and intensive care. The committee structure of the Society allows members to contribute to the work of the Society and also to bring the views of the membership to Council.

Requests from the media for information or comments related to areas of topical interest are frequently made to the Society. Council members always try to ensure that the responses provided are based on advice from colleagues with appropriate expertise, in a manner that will be understood by the public, and, wherever possible, that they continue to improve the profile of critical care medicine.

Further details of the Society's activities are given in its Annual Review and more information on the activities of the Society is available on the ICS website.

6 Financial Review

The result for the 12 months ended 31 December 2012 was an overall surplus of £97,453 (2011: surplus £71,924). Unrestricted funds had a surplus of £78,218, after a transfer of £75,000 to the Intensive Care Foundation Restricted Fund (2011: surplus of £38,206). The Memorandum of Association prohibits the payment of a dividend.

The main sources of income were subscriptions from members which were lower at £450,943, following a restructuring of subscription rates, and the registration fees and associated income from meetings and seminars of £538,651. The Industry Partnership scheme continued to provide an important link with companies providing products and services for critical care. Membership of the scheme declined slightly and generated an income of £157,000, which supports the education and research programme. Other income received was mainly from advertising revenue from the Society's journal.

Donations provided the main contribution to funding the Intensive Care Foundation, including Society members whose donations supported grant awards to New Investigators. The Foundation co-ordinates all research undertaken by the Society and a transfer of £75,000 made from the unrestricted fund surplus for the year enabled the Foundation to maintain its programme. B Braun continued its funding for the Intensive Care Foundation Deputy Directors of Research, with a grant of £15,000.

The total cost of administering the Society was £492,829. These costs comprised Membership and Support Services and Governance, and include maintaining and staffing a secretariat for members and to support activities, the journal JICS, together with committees and the management costs of Council. Allocations of staffing and administration costs related to meetings and seminars, publications, the Industry Partnership Scheme and the Intensive Care Foundation are made to reflect the proportion of time and costs incurred. This is reassessed each year, and resulted in an increase in the amounts allocated. Governance costs are directly allocated or apportioned on an assessed basis, and included additional costs in the year for conducting a strategy review and implementing constitutional changes.

The outcome of the Society's educational activities, after deducting expenses, was an overall deficit due mainly to higher levels of costs for the State of the Art meeting. The financial policy on meetings is to set delegate fees to achieve break even after direct and allocated costs. Any surpluses generated are used to further the educational programme. The winter State of the Art meeting held in London represents the main financial risk to the Society.

During the year, the Society maintained its important relationship with companies providing support through the Industry Membership scheme. Regular dialogue with industry enhances this relationship, which financially supports the education and research programme.

All research related expenditure is co-ordinated by the Intensive Care Foundation and reported as Restricted Fund expenditure. Spending on Research grants was £43,213, with three New Investigator awards, and maintained the commitment to fund researchers. The management and support costs for the Foundation totalled £68,110, partly funded by a grant from B Braun towards the costs of the two Deputy Directors of Research. As part of the activities of the Intensive Care Foundation, progress was made in multicentre research trials, funded by the Foundation and grants received. The Foundation's fund balance stood at £63,855 at the end of the year.

The investment portfolio comprised mainly shares and investment trusts in line with the Society's agreed ethical policy. The value of investments at the market prices ruling on 31 December 2012 resulted in an increase in value due to improving global stock markets. The investments represent funds held for the development of the Society's activities in the medium to long term and have generated income over the year. Surplus cash is held on deposit.

The Society commenced a major Database project to redevelop the membership database and integrate the website. Expenditure is being capitalised and will be depreciated when the project is commissioned.

Investment Powers and Policy

Under its Memorandum of Association the Society has the power to invest without restriction. The Society has adopted an ethical investment policy reflecting its position as a medical charity. The Society has set risk objectives, together with guidelines on diversification of the portfolio. Periodic reviews are undertaken with the investment manager.

Reserves Policy

The policy on reserves, represented by cash and invested funds, is to maintain and increase these to provide income and capital growth to support and develop the Society's long term activities. Unrestricted funds are held as cash on deposit or readily realisable fixed interest investments to meet approximately three months operating expenditure. Cash deposits held include amounts set aside for research spending by the Intensive Care Foundation and other Restricted Funds.

The unrestricted reserves of the Society are represented by the General Fund and the Whitaker Achievement Award designated fund.

The administration costs are covered primarily by regular income from annual membership subscriptions, which are due at the beginning of each year. The reserves policy was met, which requires a minimum of £125,000 in cash or readily realisable investments to cover three months operating expenditure.

7 Plans for Future Periods

In the coming year, the Society will continue its extensive programme of education and training, major research funding, and to represent its members in the ongoing development of critical care for the benefit of all patients and their families. Council intends to progressively implement its plans following the strategy review to ensure that the Society fulfils its unique role in UK critical care in the most effective way. The focus will be on the Society's communications, internally and externally, and completion of a major project to redevelop the website and renew the membership database. The website is one of the principal means of communicating with both the critical care community and members of the public. The Society will build on the success of the scientific meeting in London in December 2012, and the seminar programme, with joint meetings involving related specialties. The Industry Partnership Scheme, reflecting the important partnership between industry and the Society, will be actively developed in support of its aims.

The Society will continue to develop its leading position in critical care research through the Intensive Care Foundation. The Foundation receives funding from the Society and will continue to develop its fundraising programme to support its activities. The Foundation plans to engage patients and the public in the identification of research topics that will become future clinical trials through a project with the James Lind Alliance. The Journal of the Intensive Care Society will continue to develop its scientific status, with the aim of raising its profile and quality. The use of podcasts to provide information from the Journal is being developed and the Trainee committee are using social media to improve communication with both professionals and public.

8 Fixed Assets

There were additions to fixed assets as shown in note 11.

9 Statement of Directors' and Trustees' Responsibilities

The trustees (who are also directors of the Intensive Care Society for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Directors and Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditor is unaware; and
- the trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditors are aware of that information.

Rates currently used are:

Office Equipment and Furniture	20%-33% of cost
Other Equipment	20% of cost
Computer Equipment	33% of cost
