About the Intensive Care Society

The Intensive Care Society is the largest multi-professional intensive care membership organisation in the UK and oldest in the world. We welcome doctors, nurses, psychologists, physiotherapists, speech and language therapists, dietitians, pharmacists, occupational therapists and other relevant allied healthcare professionals from across the world.

For over 50 years the Society has supported the intensive care community with education, standards, guidance, research, policy, wellbeing and much more to ensure they have all the tools they need to deliver the highest quality of care to the sickest of patients in the UK.

Our Vision

The Society's vision is a world where every members of the multi-professional intensive care team is able to deliver the best quality care for those who need it, when they need it

Our Mission

To be the voice of the multi-professional intensive care community, their patients and their loved ones and together to advance and promote the best quality care, safety and research

About State of the Art

We created State of the Art (SOA) in 2001 to unite intensive care professionals from across the globe and facilitate a multi-purpose environment whereby the intensive care community can learn, network, and discover the latest advancements in critical care, clinical research and technology developed by industry.

SOA is now the largest event for intensive care in the UK and one of the largest multi-professional meeting In Europe. Year-on-year we work hard to evolve SOA to bring you a fresh experience every time and we pride ourselves on delivering a Congress that not only delivers relevant, interactive, exciting and thought-provoking sessions across multiple streams but also provide a space to re-connect and network.

Intensive Care Society
SOA24
CONGRESS

To deliver intensive care, we need an army of people, from the multi-professional intensive care teams to those who help build and provide the technology, equipment and medicines that enable us to do our jobs and provide the best quality care to our patients. Never has this been so apparent during the past few years.

SOA provides the unique opportunity where industry and the largest gathering of healthcare professionals spanning the breadth of intensive care can come together, celebrate successes, and grow from each other.

This year, we are heading to the ACC
Liverpool 18 – 20 June 2024.

We are excited to see you there!

What sponsors and exhibitors can expect at SOA

SOA offers a wealth of multi-professional educational content that benefits the whole ICU team, providing a unique and friendly environment where HCPs and industry can engage over three days.

We work hard to understand the needs of our delegates and industry to continually improve SOA to provide the best possible experience for all who attend, so every year there is something new.

The congress is the perfect stage to showcase the latest developments in intensive care, whether unveiling a new product or showing the latest enhancements to current equipment and devices.

Why sponsor or exhibit at SOA

SOA is the largest multi-professional critical care Congress in the UK and second largest in Europe

Increase your company's exposure and generate leads from over 1200 delegates representing the breadth of critical care

It provides a unique opportunity to contribute to the latest developments in the healthcare debate and increase your product awareness

Sponsoring or exhibiting will give you access to delegates and key decision makers before, during and after the Congress

Sponsorship will assure your inclusion in our SOA marketing activity

Our exciting programme across 3 streams will attract delegates from across the whole of the critical care community and is designed to provide plenty of networking opportunities to drive people to your stand

A presence at SOA assures you access to key decision makers, offering you plenty of opportunities to maintain relationships with existing contacts and generate new ones
